VICTOR FOXTROT

Florian Vogel and Carolin Kreidel are the duo behind VICTOR FOXTROT. The brand's continuously growing collection consists of tables, chairs, lamps and accessories that combine a straight language of form and colour. The label was founded in 2015 by Florian Vogel, who previously worked as a designer at Ingo Maurer for several years, where he got to appreciate light as a silent element of the interior but also metal as a material. Carolin Kreidel, a strategist in the luxury fashion industry for 15 years, joined him in 2019. Since then, Florian and Carolin have headed VICTOR FOXTROT together. Their cooperation benefits from not only their personal expertise but also from a broad creative intersection. While Florian is in charge of design, product development and craftsmanship, Carolin develops collections and stories. Both share a passion for colour, clear lines and timeless shapes – and sharpen VICTOR FOXTROT's distinctive profile based on all these parameters.

Philosophy

Elaborate solutions and precise, manual production are VICTOR FOXTROT's core convictions. In addition to the atelier, the studio runs its own metal workshop, which reduces the pathway from idea to prototype to final product to just a few steps. The collection speaks through colour and silhouette, through materials, precision and light. In other words: it's a love of detail turned into an object. Every screw, every joint, every angle and every material contributes to the appeal of the finished object.

Production

Each piece in the collection showcases the handwriting and expertise of the respective trades involved. All metal elements are manufactured on-site at VICTOR FOXTROT in Hamburg. Lampshades, upholstery or wooden parts go through the skilful hands of people who have been as carefully selected as the raw materials themselves. VICTOR FOXTROT likes to stay local. Cooperation with local partners allows for production at short notice and quick reactions. Some pieces are deliberately designed to be scalable in size or customisable in colour.

Material & colour

Colour is a guiding principle of the collection. The objects that leave VICTOR FOXTROT's workshop do not subordinate themselves to space and context. Instead, they become protagonists; characters with recognition value, seemingly made of one piece and forming a family within the collection. The resulting portfolio offers a consistency that can only be achieved by everything coming from a single source. This holistic perspective is also reflected in the philosophy: VICTOR FOXTROT accompanies each of its products during their creation and considers their environmental impact in all phases of the product's lifecycle. Green strategies aside, good form is always part of the mission – because the most sustainable objects are always the ones we don't want to live without anymore.

MARBLE, NERO MARINACE

Same same but different. Solid as a rock. Dining table and desk. The delicate steel frame is bent by hand. It consists of two identical parts that reflect each other and are only fastened at two points. The round steel is powder-coated. The tabletop is supported by a steel frame. Particular about the design and construction is that it looks very light but is extremely solid. Carrara marble stands out due to its clear and strong markings. The natural stone is polished matte and then impregnated for protection. Nevertheless, it is a sensitive surface and needs special care. The unusual stone Nero Marinace is classified as a granite. It is a riverbed that has petrified over thousands of years. Countless pebble stones of different size, shape and hue contrast with the even black background. Marinace is very hard and dense – even more than granite- and equally resistant. Designed and manufactured in Hamburg, Germany.

U TURN

LINOLEUM

With its striking silhouette, democratic seating organisation and iconic colour scheme, U TURN is a defining centrepiece for any open-plan room layout. With its three tapered cylinders, the central base is reminiscent of a trio of stacking stones. An aesthetic feature of U TURN is the particularly slim 20 millimetre thin top, which appears to float above the solid base and is stabilised by a concealed metal plate. The six different colour variants of the base with their three modules each form a harmonious chord in yellow, green, red, blue, black or shades of white. They are combined in monochrome with the top made of solid-coloured MDF with a linoleum surface and rounded edges at the bottom. Depending on the diameter of the table top, four to ten people can sit at the U TURN.

MARBLE, AVOCATUS, NERO MARINACE

With its striking silhouette, democratic seating organisation and iconic colour scheme, U TURN is a defining centrepiece for any open-plan room layout. With its three tapered cylinders, the central base is reminiscent of a trio of stacking stones. An aesthetic feature of U TURN is the particularly slim 20 millimetre thin top, which appears to float above the solid base and is stabilised by a concealed metal plate. The six different colour variants of the base with their three modules each form a harmonious chord in yellow, green, red, blue, black or shades of white. They are combined with a natural stone top in a monochrome colour: with marble and basalt stones whose exciting histories are reflected in their lively aesthetics. In the black Nero Marinace, pebbles are encased in lava and create a natural terrazzo effect. The green Avocatus quartzite comes from the Brazilian Amazon basin and displays a fascinating colour palette ranging from emerald green to a powdery olive, interspersed with fine veins and patterns in white, black and beige. Depending on the diameter of the table top, four to ten people can sit at the U TURN.

DOUBLE U

ARM CHAIR

DOUBLE U resembles a light embrace. The chair's frame features a clear, organically curved line that encloses the body like a frame. It also gave the chair its name: the two pairs of legs, which are made of bent tubular steel, are shaped like upside-down Us, while the armrest forms a closed geometry behind the back section and under the seat shell. DOUBLE U's dynamic silhouette is full of verve and playful lightness; the monochrome colour scheme makes it look as if it has been cast from a single mould. By using pressed beech veneered with ash for the seat shell and backrest, VICTOR FOXTROT relies on local material from German forests. Thanks to the seven vibrant colours from the VICTOR FOXTROT range, the tubular steel chair blends into any interior. Whether as an eye-catching solitary chair, restrained in colour or as part of a colourful troupe – DOUBLE U convinces with durability, comfort and iconic aesthetics. Designed and manufactured in Hamburg, Germany.

SWELL TIME

ARM CHAIR

Graphic and graceful – these are the characteristics of the members of the SWELL TIME family. A slender frame made of round steel bars becomes the basis for the precisely crafted upholstery elements made of wool bouclé or leather. The design puts contrasts in a dialogue: cool metal meets warm textures and soft surfaces. Every detail has been worked out to optimally fulfil its function, but also to ensure a homogeneous overall appearance. Textile-covered, deliberately discreet armrests seem to balance on the round steel, while the narrow and comfortable seat and back cushions are fixed on just three cross struts. Hidden among all the clear lines is a stylistic nod to lounge history: the button-stitching is a style homage to the British Chesterfield armchairs, the archetype of the club chair. VICTOR FOXTROT has interpreted the classic in a contemporary way, and the result is just as cosy. Designed and manufactured in Hamburg, Germany.

Graphic and graceful – these are the characteristics of the members of the SWELL TIME family. A slender frame made of round steel bars becomes the basis for the precisely crafted upholstery elements made of wool bouclé or leather. The design puts contrasts in a dialogue: cool metal meets warm textures and soft surfaces. Every detail has been worked out to optimally fulfil its function, but also to ensure a homogeneous overall appearance. Textile-covered, deliberately discreet armrests seem to balance on the round steel, while the narrow and comfortable seat and back cushions are fixed on just three cross struts. Hidden among all the clear lines is a stylistic nod to lounge history: the button-stitching is a style homage to the British Chesterfield armchairs, the archetype of the club chair. VICTOR FOXTROT has interpreted the classic in a contemporary way, and the result is just as cosy. Designed and Manufactured in Hamburg, Germany.

MY AMI

With a height of 80 centimeters, depth of 45 centimeters, and a length of 185 centimeters, MY AMI offers a spacious display area. The design of the sideboard plays with a slim and light silhouette, utilizing powder-coated steel as the material. The top and base form a distinct T-profile when viewed from the side, while the frontal view combines the soft shapes of ovals, circles, and rounded squares. However, what truly characterizes MY AMI are its clear colors. Several variants in harmonious triads are available. The color assumes a key design function: both the top and base consist of three layers, with the base revealing gradually smaller circular cutouts towards the back. The plates stack seamlessly on top of each other and appear to float, thanks to the hidden profile struts. This interplay of layers creates visual depth and makes the furniture appear different from every angle. Designed and manufactured in Hamburg, Germany.

LESS MESS

LESS MESS doesn't hide clothes behind doors but showcases them openly in the room. As its name suggests, the wardrobe strives to maintain order and limit chaos. LESS MESS combines the functions of a clothes rail and wardrobe and puts the clothes in a three-dimensional frame. Metal bars, arranged strictly at right angles, contrast deliberately with soft leather straps that suspend the brass clothes rail. The slim silhouette also benefits those who move house frequently. Six powder-coated square tubes form the basic construction of this piece. Screwed together, they are so robust and resilient that they can become companions for life. Over time, the brass and leather elements develop a soft tarnish, contributing to the ever-changing individual character of LESS MESS. Designed and manufactured in Hamburg, Germany.

ALL ROUND

In terms of colour, the entire family of lamps relies on monochrome consistency: red in red or yellow in yellow, the ALL ROUND floor and table lamps appear to be cast from a single mould. Touching them allows you to experience tactile contrasts between warm and cool, soft and hard. The lampshade is covered with woolen fabric, while the cable is lagged in textile. The base comprises a powder-coated steel tube and hides a stabilising weight, eliminating the need for a pedestal. The shade is clad in matt gold foil on the inside, helping ALL ROUND to create a soft and cosy atmosphere. With its sculptural shape, ALL ROUND brings personality into any room, whether standing solo or by the sofa, or as a smaller version on a desk, windowsill or sideboard. Designed and manufactured in Hamburg, Germany.

ZIG ZAG

ZIG ZAG creates a special lighting atmosphere that fits well above the dining table and bar. Its sculptured body is reminiscent of unfolded paper with sharp creases, creating a geometric play of shadows on its surface. ZIG ZAG's second quality is the light itself. The ingenious way it was constructed ensures that the surface underneath will be evenly illuminated with warm white light. The two cheeks of the corpus, on the other hand, create a clear boundary for the light, preventing people who sit at the table from being dazzled and pleasantly placing their faces in a half-shadow. Upwards to the ceiling, ZIG ZAG indirectly diffuses light that looks like warm candlelight. It's a precisely dosed lighting climate that creates a good atmosphere in all kinds of places. Be it a dining room, restaurant or bar, a conference room, a hotel lobby or above a sideboard. Designed and manufactured in Hamburg, Germany.

LEAF IT

This pendant lamp takes inspiration from Honesty, an old-fashioned cottage garden plant (also known as Silver Dollar or Money Plant) whose branches are often dried and put in vases due to their delicate, opaque leaves and their ethereal, almost fairy-like appearance. LEAF IT adopts the plant's branched structure and uses the upward-pointing leaves as reflectors that indirectly illuminate the room. Under each oval leaf, a smaller one shields the LEDs. As an organic light sculpture, LEAF IT invites interaction: Each reflector can be rotated to adapt the silhouette and light focus according to the mood. Due to its height of 120 centimetres and its diameter of 100 centimetres, a ceiling height of at least 3.20 metres is recommended. Each luminaire is made to order, so custom designs can also be realised. Designed and manufactured in Hamburg, Germany.

POI

Many people can't do without their "fixed spot" in the house. It's part of everyday organisation: a place where keys, glasses or mobile phones can be reliably found. VICTOR FOXTROT has dedicated a small product line to this routine. Point of Interest is the name of the small trays made of thin, folded steel, which are available in four different sizes. With POI, everything finds its suitable little box, whether it's jewellery, a handful of paper clips, papers or a tangle of unravelled cables. The POIs can be arranged next to each other, combined with each other. Each POI tray is numbered and unique: even the first tray produced received a small brass plaque as a counting mark – reminiscent of the analogue times of archiving. The sorting assistants are available in eleven shades and can also be fitted with a soft insert made of vegetable-tanned leather. Designed and manufactured in Hamburg, Germany.
